THE INDONESIAN OCCUPATION OF EAST TIMOR

1974-1989
A CHRONOLOGY

John Taylor — Foreword by Peter Carey

The Indonesian invasion of East Timor in December 1975 and East Timor's subsequent 'incorporation' into the Indonesian Republic constitutes one of the gravest violations of international law in post-war history. The destruction wrought in East Timor can be compared to that in Afghanistan, Tibet and Pol Pot's Cambodia. Appalling suffering and social dislocation have been imposed.

The Chronology catalogues a remarkable story of resistance. Against all expectations by Indonesia and the West, the people of East Timor have refused to accept integration by force and continue to demand their rights as a people.

The period covered in the Chronology begins 18 months before the Indonesian invasion and focuses on the demise of Portuguese colonialism and the emergence of the Fretilin administration. Subsequent events of the Indonesian invasion are catalogued in full, as are details of international reactions to the annexation of East Timor.

Each event, as recorded in the press, is listed and indexed, providing the reader with easy access by either date or subject.

John Taylor's unique chronology of events in East Timor between 1974 and 1989 is an essential tool for those interested in gaining a long-term understanding of developments in the territory.
